BRAINED HIMSELF.

A. L. Davis Seeks a Bullet Through His Head at Winder.

WAS LABORING UNDER A DELUSION

That He Was to Be Sent to the Asylum. Found with Brains and Blood Coming from His Head.

Winder, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—A. L. Davis, a traveling clock agent, shot himself through the head this evening at 3 o'clock. He left no note, but the reason for the deed, he has been in bad health for some weeks and was under treatment of Dr. Ross, of this place. He was laboring under a delusion that some one was attempting to have him placed in the asylum. He had rented a room at the Hotel Jackson, one mile out of town, and employed Mr. Pierson to keep house for him and cultivate the land. He was at this place when he committed the act.

After dinner he went out to the lot. In a few minutes Mr. Pierson and family heard the report of a pistol, and going to the shack house he found Mr. Davis sitting against the door with the pistol in his hand. A ragged wound from the shot just behind the right ear from which the brains and blood were oozing, was seen. He has not spoken since the shot. On his person was found $35 and some letters. One was from his brother in Cleveland, Ohio, and another from another brother in Henderson, N. C. Among his papers was found a memorandum of his last will and testament which had been left with Rev. S. Lander, of Williamson, S. C. He has no family, his wife being dead several years, leaving no children. His brothers have been notified of his condition. From tax receipts found he has a lot of land in Murray county, Georgia, and another lot in or near Webster, Jackson county, North Carolina. Davis cannot possibly live through the night.

IT JUST DISAPPEARED.

The Express Agent Said He Did Not Know Where It Went.

Birmingham, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—John L. Barker, who was charged with the crime of embezzlement by a jury in the criminal court of this county last yesterday afternoon, Barker was chief clerk in the office of the Southern Express Company at this place. He was manager of the Hamilton and Ohio Express Company until its consolidation with the Southern. Last August Barker received for a package of "valuable" contents, which was consigned to the Sheffield and Birmingham railroad. This package never reached its destination. Search for it was instituted, but it could be traced no further. Barker, according to the company's records it had come into Barker's hands. He had no record of what had become of it. His arrest followed. He was released on bond and was tried this week. The defendant proved an exceptionally good character. He did not attempt to show what became of the $300, as he had no record of it. The company, however, could not prove that Barker took the money, and the jury rendered its verdict without leaving the box.

A WHITECAPPER FINED.

He Was One of a Party Who Flogged

The first case of whitecapping ever known in Alabama was tried at Double Springs, Winston county, yesterday and Dorris Hamner, a prominent farmer, was fined $500 and costs. The facts were that one night about ten months ago a dozen masked men went to the residence of John H. Murphy, the most prominent farmer in the county, and under the pretext of securing a match to light a campfire, got Murphy out of the house, and taking him to the woods, flogged him soundly. The grievance was that Murphy would not allow a new road to pass through his plantation. Murphy recognized most of his assailants as among his neighbors. Hamner was the only man tried yesterday. The others were probably pled guilty and pay the fine that Hamner paid.

Set Her Clothes on Fire.

Birmingham, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—A special from Tuscaloosa says: The comely Malinda Jolley, a negro woman, was plowing in a field on Judge Coleman's place yesterday, she stopped and lighted a match to burn the grass from in front of her plow, when her clothing caught fire and she was burned to death before assistance reached her.

Bishop Wilmer in Bad Health.

Birmingham, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—The thousands of friends, both inside and outside of Alabama, of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Wilmer, of the Episcopal church of Alabama, will learn with sincere regret of his continued ill-health at his residence in Mobile. The distinguished divine has been in bad health for several months and, on account of his advanced age, his friends are inclined to be apprehensive. There is probably no man in Alabama a man who is as universally beloved as is Bishop Wilmer.

AROUND ALABAMA.

Huntsville, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—The city is shocked with surprise over the arrest today of Arthur Dill, a trusted clerk in the store of Ralph Mitchell, charged with robbing his safe last night of $500. Dill stood among the first young men here, a quiet, unassuming character. It is said he knew the combination. Dill is in jail. The evidence is circumstantial.

Tusculum, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—Another coach load of negroes left for Texas and Louisiana last Sunday in charge of the woman who chaperoned a crowd several weeks ago. These have possibly 400 left this county in the past two months, including men, women and children.

Birmingham, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—There died in Greensboro, Ala., on the 14th instant, perhaps the oldest negro in the state. His name was Caleb Williams, alias Caleb Avery, and he is known to have been one hundred and nine years old. The information as to his age comes from the original bill of sale of Caleb, while a slave, to the father of the late Bryant Avery. Caleb was an illiterate, but a sensible, old fellow and it was interesting to hear him tell of incidents of the long-ago.

Jasper, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—A man named William Gray has mysteriously disappeared from this place and what has become of him cannot be conjectured. He has been missing for three weeks. The day before he left he ordered a suit of clothes made and deposited $7 on it. He left his horse and buggy in the livery stable at Jasper. He returned to Birmingham on the Kansas City railroad, but nothing has since been heard of him. It is believed he was foully dealt with, as he was known to have had some money on his person when he left here.

Birmingham, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—Mr. Joseph A. Gray, who lives in Bartow county, Alabama, three miles from Tusculum, has lived on the same farm in this county for seventy-two years. He has never slept under the roof of that house even successive nights during that time.

HOLES IN THE SAFE.

Robbers Work on H. Franklin's Safe, But Fail of Success.

THEY WERE VERY COOL ABOUT IT

Chief Connolly's Horse Figures in a Disastrous Runaway—The Stranger at the Hospital—Police Items.

A crew of bungling safe robbers are still tinkering around the city, making futile efforts to effect an entrance to somebody's safe.

The latest effort exceeds any of its predecessors in boldness of design and execution. It occurred on populous and never deserted Whitehall street, where people are almost constantly passing and in a block which is covered over by patrolmen with extra vigilance.

The attempted robbery occurred in the plumbing store of H. Franklin, at 123 Whitehall street, and the signs left by the robbers go to prove that they did not exercise any undue hurry in getting through their work. They ransacked every portion of the safe, and then quietly drilled two holes in the heavy iron safe.

The attempted robbery was not discovered until yesterday morning, and then it was immediately reported to the detectives. The robbers forced an entrance through a rear window. After getting through this window, it was necessary to open several drawers, but they effected this with comparative ease. The robbers broke open two large tool chests and robbed them of their contents. With the aid of some of the tools taken from the chests, they drilled holes into the safe. The holes were neatly bored, but it became evident to the robbers, after about two hours hard work that it was almost hopeless to get through.

The detectives are investigating the robbery. It is not believed that the boring was done by professionals; it looks more like the bungling effort of some amateur. The robbers are about the sixth attempted robbery of the kind that has occurred in the city within the past month, and it looks very much as if the same gang had done all the work.

Chief Connolly's private carriage was demolished in a frightful runaway yesterday morning, and the driver, who was badly hurt by being dragged 100 yards behind the flying vehicle.

Chief Connolly was driven to the union depot, and the horse started to return to the chief's residence on East Hunter street. One of the driving lines broke just as he turned into Loyd street and the horse dashed madly over the city streets. A woman, who was turned into this street it was overturned and Lamar was dashed out. He caught in the running gear, and at the eminent peril of his life, he was dragged more than 100 yards. The buggy was torn to bits and the horse, freed from it, dashed on all the faster. The mad animal leaped the iron fence that surrounds St. Philip's rectory, and in doing so, was badly injured. Wesley Limar, was carried to the Grady hospital. He was badly used up.

Detectives Cason and Looney have established the fact that the injured stranger at the hospital is from Winston, N. C., but jury fellow has not yet remembered his name.

Yesterday afternoon a Mr. Reynolds, a relative of Mr. R. J. Reynolds, the tobacco magnate, who was shot and killed by a man says he once worked on Detective Looney and Cason and they carried him to the hospital. Mr. Reynolds talked for some time with the police, mentioning the name of the man who shot him. He says he owns a plantation between Winston and Salem, and once worked for Mr. Reynolds. He was a German and was for years watchman at the college at Salem. The detectives feel confident that they will discover the stranger's name and as communications concerning him have been sent to Winston and the publication of his picture in The Constitution is expected to lead to the discovery of his identity.

An unknown crazy negro, denuded of all his outer garments, was captured last night by Patrolman Dwyer. The negro was acting in the wildest manner imaginable, and when arrested spoke not a word. The officers could not get his name, as he has not spoken since his arrest. He was locked up at police headquarters.

A MURDERER CAUGHT.

Bill Nelson Who Murdered Louisa Williams Found in South Carolina.

Augusta, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Bill Nelson, the negro who shot and killed Louisa Williams two weeks ago, and whose arrest Governor Northington offered $150 reward and the city $25, was captured this morning and brought to this city. He was caught on the farm of Nixon, a negro planter, in Barnwell county, South Carolina, thirty-five miles below here, and four miles from the home of Nixon, John Thompson and Houston McCoy, three negroes, captured him.

Nelson was betrayed by Joe Mixon, who sent him to his father's plantation to be harbored until a reward was offered. Nelson says he will try and keep Mixon from getting the reward. The murderer was captured at 5 o'clock this morning, before he got up. He was covered with guns and forced to surrender. His reason for murdering Louisa was that he was jealous of her. He intends to fight the case in court.

Still They Come.

Franklin, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—A new postoffice has been established near Centralhatchee church, and will be known as Centralhatchee. The office will be at Mr. C. B. Montgomery's residence. The appointment of postmaster. The mail days will possibly be Wednesdays and Saturdays. It will be made a route to extend from Roopville, connecting with the Glenloch line. It should be extended at once, as it would give Glenloch, Andrews, Rosebud and Yellow Dirt direct connection with the county site twice a week, giving them important mails on Saturday when they do not now receive until Wednesday of the following week.

Stallings Can Get in at Nashville. Nashville, Tenn., February 18.—(Special.)—The crowd in the baseball firmament of Nashville has rolled away and all is serene again. Messrs. E. C. Connett and Ed Hanks, who had an option on the athletic park, have surrendered it to the Nashville Athletic Club and Manager Stallings will be able to lease it upon favorable terms.

Farmers Hard at Work.

Igo, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Farmers are getting ready for another crop. Oats are being sown, and land turned for corn, peas and other crops. The people are working people, and know they have less to make a crop on this year. Therefore, they hit while it is cool. If the people hold out and seasons are favorable, hard times will be a thing of the past.

SINKING OF A SCHOONER.

Rescue of Her Crew by the City of Birmingham.

Savannah, Ga., February 18.—The steamer City of Birmingham arrived from New York today with four survivors of the Schooner Calumet Club, wrecked off Hatteras last Wednesday. The vessel was bound from Baltimore for New Bern, N. C. The City of Birmingham sighted her Friday night and went to her assistance. Captain Wainwright, two seamen and a colored cook were taken off. The vessel sank in a few hours. The mate, Charles Weston, of Salisbury, Md., was washed overboard and lost before the rescue.

The schooner sailed from Baltimore last Tuesday. The next day she was caught in the storm, which swept up the coast and was driven on the breakers. She was finally beached off the shore and the men were kept continually at the pumps. In spite of their efforts, the water kept gaining, and had not the City of Birmingham sighted her, all would have been lost. The men buried their clothes as signals at night.

VISITING PHYSICIANS SEE ATLANTA.

They Were Driven Over the City by the Local Physicians.

The distinguished party of metropolitan physicians, traveling through the south in a special parlor car, arrived in Atlanta under most favorable auspices yesterday.

Their handsome car was sidetracked opposite the Markham house, and all day it was besieged by the local members of the medical profession. Most of the visitors went out to church in the morning.

In the afternoon they were carried out driving by a number of physicians, who expressed themselves as highly pleased with Atlanta. They were shown every courtesy and all the other doctors, but they effected this with comparative ease. The robbers broke open two large tool chests and robbed them of their contents. With the aid of some of the tools taken from the chests, they drilled holes into the safe. The holes were neatly bored, but it became evident to the robbers, after about two hours hard work that it was almost hopeless to get through.

THE ORIGIN OF MUSIC.

The lecture upon music, which Dr. Thomas P. Powell, the distinguished medical college president of the Southern medical college delivered yesterday afternoon, was attended by a large audience, and the doctor, in his peculiarly brilliant way, scored a grand success.

The audience was composed of not only the students and their many pretty and charming lady friends, but a large number of strangers.

CITY NEWS.

A SERIOUS FIRE AVERTED.—About 4 o'clock yesterday morning there came near a public dancing fire at Boyd & Baxter's furniture factory on Marietta street. This was only prevented by the efficient work of the department. The roof of the engine house was on fire and was burning. The department had hard work to prevent the spreading of the fire to other parts of the factory. As a great deal of inflammable material was lying around, the fire threatened to become very destructive. As it was the damage was small.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.—Paul Blake, a negro burglar, was captured in a residence last night and handed over to the police. Blake broke into a negro's residence at the corner of West Forsyth street and Hill avenue, and was casting about for booty when he was grabbed by the householder and securely held. He was turned over to Sergeant Poole and Patrolman Daniels.

A LITTLE ONE CALLED HOME.—Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, Adde Marie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price, died after a short illness. The little one was eight months old and was the pride and joy of her parents—their first born. She was an exceedingly bright and beautiful child and gave promise of growing to a magnificent womanhood. Sincere and deep is the sorrow of all the friends of the afflicted parents in the home of their deep trial. The hour of the funeral has not yet been announced.

Putting the Screws On.—The suggestion that members of the house who are absent for more than one day without legislation shall forfeit one day's pay as a consequence is a good one. No vote, no pay. That rule would be admirable.

I have always been a delicate woman and began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla three years ago for that tired feeling. It built me up so quickly and so well that I feel like a different woman and have always had great faith in it. I give it to my children whenever they seem any trouble with their blood, and it does them good. My little boy likes it so well he cries for it. I cannot find words to tell how highly I prize it. We use Hood's Pills in the family and they

A SERIOUS FIGHT.

Dr. Dixon and Mr. Presnell Have a Lively Difficulty.

BOTH MEN WERE HURT CONSIDERABLY

Two Mute Burglars Caught—A Man Arrested on a Serious Charge—Other Items of Police News.

There was a fierce fight in Dr. J. E. Dixon's office, on Marietta street, late Friday afternoon, which was kept quiet until Saturday morning when rumors of it reached the ears of Patrolman Harris and arrests were made.

Dr. Dixon, the prominent young physician, and Mr. John Presnell, of No. 31 Rankin street, were the principals in the difficulty. The fight was in earnest from all accounts and Presnell will wear the scars he received in it for many a day.

The fight was the outgrowth of some trouble that the two had early last week. Dr. Dixon swore out a warrant against Mr. Presnell, making a very damaging charge, but the warrant was withdrawn and the case was settled, every one thought. But after the settlement the charge still rankled in Mr. Presnell's mind and he was dissatisfied. He went with Dr. Dixon to the latter's office, and the two talked the matter over. What occurred is known to the police only in a general way, but that the clash between the two was a serious business, the condition of both gentlemen testifies.

After the fight was ended and the two had been separated by Mr. Dan Hall, Mr. Presnell went to his home on Rankin street. The fight did not get to the ears of the police, but it was the talk of Marietta street yesterday morning, and Patrolman Harris called on Dr. Dixon. The doctor admitted the fight, and said that it was a serious one. He said that he fought in self-defense, and had struck Presnell over the head with a shampoo bottle, cutting the scalp.

There were rumors on the street that Mr. Presnell was fatally injured, and Chief Connolly sent Callman Abbott to his residence and ordered that Dr. Dixon be released. He was taken to the police headquarters.

Dr. Dixon went to Chief Connolly's office and told of the affair, saying that he did what he did in self-defense. Officer Abbott found Mr. Presnell painfully injured, but did not think the wounds fatal. Upon this Dr. Dixon was allowed to go home.

The case was set for trial on the 24th instant, at which time Mr. Presnell is expected to be recovered. Chief Connolly states that Dr. Dixon has several bruises about the face.

Two mute burglars were captured by Patrolman Stallings on Hunter street Saturday night. They had forced their way into a house and were ready to appropriate the contents.

The mutes are negro youths aged about fourteen years each. They came to the city but a few days ago from Cave Spring. Both are well educated and write correct English. They carried on quite a lengthy conversation with Station House Keeper Joiner last night, writing for him the points of interest about their past.

The boys gave their names as Ed Holden and Will Osborne. They were out of money and had no friends in Atlanta, so concluded to make a raise by burglarizing. They were quickly caught up with. The youngsters are pitiful spectacles and although they are guilty of burglary, much sympathy was expressed for them at police headquarters.

L. B. Atchison, a white man forty-two years old, living in Atlanta, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen Hollis and Glover on a serious charge, which is held against him at Tusculum, Ala.

Two days ago Chief Connolly received a letter from Sheriff Shelby Graham, of Tusculum, giving a good description of Atchison, and stating that for assault with attempt to rape was in his (the sheriff's) hands against Atchison. The alleged victim is a small white girl, ten years old. The details were not given.

Chief Connolly instructed his men to arrest Atchison, which was done yesterday afternoon. The chief had a talk with Atchison and he agreed to return to Alabama without a ransom. He denied the charge and said he was ready enough to go back and vindicate himself. Chief Connolly wired this to Sheriff Graham and the latter officer is expected to arrive in Atlanta this afternoon.

After Atchison was locked up a bailiff in Justice Orr's court swore out a warrant against him for obstructing a legal process on February 18th, which Connolly was very indignant at this and said that he would fight it to the end and turn Atchison over to the Alabama courts.

"This warrant," said he, "is just hatched up to prevent Atchison's being carried back to Alabama and to light the fire of indignation at this and said that he would fight it to the end and turn Atchison over to the Alabama courts. The charge is too serious to allow a man to get away on a much smaller charge."

Chief Connolly received an official inquiry from Brewton, Ala., Saturday, asking if a man was wanted here for committing the murder for which Peter Daniels has already paid the forfeit on the gallows. Of course the Brewton officer did not know that the murderer had been hanged. He has located, Wright, who, it will be remembered, was connected with the crime by way of being regarded as Daniels' partner. Any get out of the way and he has been hiding that Wright was not wanted.

An Important Difference.
To make it apparent to thousands who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs.
